

INVITATION for a free WEB-SEMINAR
On Wednesday January 13, 19:00-19:45 (CET)
A sick tortoise

Dear colleagues,

Today we would like to invite you to our next web-seminar of the English-language online series on the topic "A sick tortoise".

A disease outbreak with stomatitis, rhinitis, and skin lesions started in May 2020 in a group of Russian tortoises (Testudo horsfieldii). 60% of the animals in the group became ill and 40% died. It turned out the origin of the problem was likely 2 years earlier...

SPEAKER

PD Dr. Rachel E. Marschang
Laboklin GmbH & Co. KG

Rachel Marschang qualified as a vet from the Justus Liebig Univ. in Giessen, Germany in 1995 and has been working in reptile medicine and infectious diseases ever since. She received her doctorate in viruses of tortoises from the Justus Liebig Univ. and her habilitation in Environmental and Animal Hygiene and Veterinary Virology from the Univ. of Hohenheim, Stuttgart, Germany. She is a diplomate of the European College of Zoological Medicine (ECZM) in herpetological medicine as well as a certified specialist for microbiology. She is a past president of The Association of Reptilian and Amphibian Veterinarians (ARAV) and the current president of the ECZM. She has authored over 100 peer-reviewed papers and multiple book chapters and has presented hundreds of papers at international conferences. She is currently working as a consultant veterinarian for reptile diagnostics at Laboklin GmbH & Co. KG in Bad Kissingen, Germany and as an adjunct professor at the Univ. of Hohenheim in Stuttgart.

Date: Wednesday, January 13, 2021

Time: 19:00 – 19:30 (CET)

You can register free of charge on the following link:

https://laboklin.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_SWCAArrUSBS0Aofl65j67w

Should you have any question, please feel free to contact us by webseminar_int@laboklin.com.

After your registration, you will receive a confirmation email with a link for the web-seminar.

Please make sure to visit our website regularly or sign up for our newsletter to be informed about future online content.

We look forward to seeing you online!

Your LABOKLIN Team